

CRACKS ME UP. Aidan Busing holds his egg drop contraption, made of plastic straws and duct tape, in preparation to drop it off the two story U-building. As part of Mr. Bic Nguyen's physics lab assignment, students' instructions were to protect a raw egg using limited materials and to calculate the energy dispersement that cushions the egg. ON THE STAGE. As part of dance three's class's winter dance concert, Joshua Gaspar '22 kneels on the stage and points to the crowd. Beside him were Darren Ngo '20, Sergio Gujarran '20, and Fatima Corona '20 and other dance three students (not pictured). "I was so in the moment that everything else tuned out, I was completely oblivious to everything around me other than what was on the stage," Gaspar said. PC: HUNG PHAN
