"I think [Taiwanese Student Association] really helped me grow because it was my first time taking on such a big leader position and having to work closely with a large group of people. Overall, I think it made me a more confident person and helped me feel less nervous when approaching people."

"Model UN has allowed me to improve both my research and public speaking skills. The community of delegates from both Homestead and other schools is really nice as well. It allows for others to practice essential skills and be part of an amazing, supportive community."
