He kept practicing / "I'm proud of being a guitarist. I've been doing it for eight years. I'm going on tour this summer and I went on tour last summer."

Are They Really Mean?

Movie watchers rate the newly released Mean Girls movie

"I haven't seen it yet, but a lot of people criticize the movie because it feels like a dupe of the original Broadway musical. I think that in the movie they get a lot of tonal things wrong, especially with Katie."

Isabella Ruiz, 12

"I don't think that they did the best they could've, it doesn't really hold a flame to the original movie from the early 2000s."

Alison Wells, 10

"0/10, it sucked because they advertised makeup brands; it was just weird."

Gabriel Mata, 9

"I hate it; it's so bad. Like, why would they ever remake it. It's a classic and it was already so good."

Charlotte Hamilton, 9

"I haven't seen it, but from what I heard from my friends, I would give it a 4 out of 5."

Graphic designers share their shoe design for the competition held in graphic design

SPIDER SENSES

Junior Lillian Ildefonso Espinoza wins first place with her Spider-Man shoe design. Ildefonso Espinoza based her design on her brother because he liked Spider-Man and it was his favorite type of Jordan. "I know that my brother really likes Spider-Man and I wanted to do something to incorporate what he likes. And that's his favorite Jordan silhouette," said Ildefonso Espinoza.

NIKE NOSTALGIA

In faculty Aaron Roth's fall term graphic design class, freshman Andrik Medina Villarreal designs a Little Big Planet Nike shoe. Medina Villarreal won second place in the contest. He was inspired by the video game because it was a big part of his childhood. "In Little Big Planet the world is made of cotton, blues and greens so I put that in the design. The bottom soul is the color of the main character," said Medina Villarreal.

WAVES OF DETAILS

For the Rad Kicks contest, Natalie Ang comes up with a shoe inspired by the Great Wave print by Katsushika Hokusai. Ang worked on this contest for about a week, ending up getting third place overall. "I just like the wave in the middle because I think it adds a lot of detail. I probably had to think about the colors I was gonna use and the textures and the placements," said Ang.
